JUDGE LAZARUS IS SCORED BY BRADY ON DECISION

Declares That Evidence Was Sufficient to Hold on Murder Charge

ARBUCKLE IS RELEASED

Attorneys Declare He Will Never Be Brought to Trial Now

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—"The very fact that Roscoe Arbuckle was held to answer for manslaughter is a demonstration that he should have been held for murder," District At-torney Brady declared in a statement issued early today.

He was commenting-sometimes hotly—on the discussion of the case of Police Judge Lazarus when Lazarus ·late yesterday dismissed the murder charge against Arbuckle and held the actor to answer for manslaughter.

"If the defendant were criminally responsible for the death of Virginia Rappe, then he should be tried for murder," the district attorney said. Brady quoted the language of Judge Lazarus in which the judge declared that the Arbuckle case was "really an important case" and declared that "we must not beguile ourselves with the idea that we are handling here just the ordinary, trivial case."

"With that statement I take issue," Brady said. "I dispute it and I say it is wholly un-American and fundamentally wrong. My platform is 'equal rights for all and special advantages

On the other hand, a report by the Women's Vigiant committee, the club women's organization which sat in the courtroom during the trial-commended the judge for his fairness and his general conduct of the case.

The district attorney now has 30 days in which to file information in the supreme court against Arbuckle. On filing of the information, Arbuckle will be arraigned and his trial set. Arbuckle will never be brought to trial, his attorneys predicted.

District Attorney Brady, however, declared the trial on the lesser charge would be pressed as speedily as pos-

Within half an hour after Police Judge Lazarus had dismissed the murder charge late yesterday, Arbuckle had furnished $5,000 cash bail. He was expected to return to Los Angeles today. But he must come back to San Francisco in a few days to plead to the manslaughter charge. The date of his trial will be set then, according to the prosecution.

It was believed that Arbuckle will leave today for Los Angeles, probably accompanied by his life, Minta Durfee, and her mother.

The raiders, led by one car with a searchlight, in nine unlighted automobiles, drove to the plant about 9:30 and, menacing the employes with shot guns, ordered them outside and lined them up against the wall of the build-One of the raiders addressed the employes, telling them to close down the plant before morning.

One employe of the plant related that he blew the whistle, and when the motorcycle headlight of a deputy sheriff was seen on the highway, the raiders piled into their cars, reiterating threats, and departed.

The plant, guarded by officers, was operating today. It supplies water to about 7500 persons.

DEFENSE SCORES THE FIRST VICTORY IN SOUTHARD CASE

Entire Venire of 40 Talesmen Is Disqualified by an Order of Court

A DRAMATIC MOMENT

Sheriff, Complaining Witness, Is Barred From Summoning Prospective Jurors

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Sept. 29.-The defense in the case of Mrs. Lyda Southard, alleged "female bluebeard," won its first important point today when, at a dramatic session of the court, it succeeded in disqualifying at one stroke an entire venire of 40 prospective jurors who had been summoned by Sheriff E. R. Sherman.

The defense further succeeded in disquelifying Sheriff Sherman as incompetent to summon a jury, for the reason that he originally signed the complaint charging Mrs. Southard with murder, and is to be a witness for the prosecution.

The special venire which was ordered summoned last Tuesday when the original venire of 75 was exhausted, court when Judge Babcock was in opened the proceedings at 10 a. m. The defense immediately asked to have the venire excluded from the courtroom, as it had a motion to make. The veniremen filed out of the room Then, in a dramatic silence unbroken for five minutes, Homer C. Mills, at torney for the defense handed Judge Babcock and District Attorney Steph an a copy of the motion which was read in silence.

The motion charged: 1.—That Sheriff E. R. Sherman swore to the complaint charging Mrs Southard with murder on April 23,

2.-That when Sherman took office on January 1, 1921, he immediately appointed Deputy Sheriff V. H. Orms by and ordered him to spend his entire time in investigating the case against Mrs Southard on Sherman's behalf, and that Sherman directed all the proceedings

3.-That Sherman has formed an expressed and unqualified opinion and belief that the defendant is guilty or ot guilty of the offense charged.

Mills stated that he did not believe justice to be safe, or that a fair trial could with absolute surety be given Mrs. Southard by a jury chosen from a panel selected by Sherman.

The prosecution held that Sherman, in summoning the venire, was merely acting in the official capacity prescribed to him by alw and had merely done his duty as an officer when he signed the complaint against Mrs.

ounty attorney late today Mrs. George Thomas and Mrs. Orville Thomas, sister-in-law, are named in the complaint that charges assault with intent to do bodily harm and reveals one of the most startling stories in the history of the local courts.

Mrs. Dailey told the county attorney she had been associating with George Thomas, operator of a retail automobile tire business here, but did not know he was married.

She said she received a telephone message from Mrs. Thomas, whom she had known for several weeks, asking her to accompany her to the country for an automobile ride. She accepted the invitation.

Two miles out of Tulsa, the complaint says, the car was stopped in front of Mrs. Orville Thomas' country home and she, with two other women, entered the car.

After proceeding for perhaps half an hour the car was stopped and Mrs. Thomas announced "this is the place." "Now, what have you got to say about it, Billy?" Mrs. Thomas asked. "Say about what?" Mrs. Dailey in-

MAYOR'S BELIEF Difficult to Secure Men for Board Assures Them That Work Is Situation Now

in This City

Demand for More Men in a Few Weeks Will Be Very Acute Says Mayor

While other cities in California are in the throes of an unemployment wave that is critical, Glendale has not felt the slightest decrease in work, r any signs of unemployment. Mayor Spencer Robinson in menting on the situation, said: "Glendale has no unemployment situation, rather the business men and the city departments are finding it difficult to find men to do work that is needed, and needed badly. There is no reason for any one in Glendale who really wants to work to be without a job. "At present the city is installing a sewer in the Verdugo Canyon district and is laying several miles of water pipe in various sections of the city. All men available in Glendale were hired to do the work and both jobs are still short handed. "In a few weeks, or as soon as the sipe arrives, the city will start the work of laying several miles of water mains throughout the city. This job will require many men, how many 1 do not know, but I do know that from the present outlook workers for this job will not be available in Glendaie and the city will be forced to hire men in Los Angeles to do the work.

"Personally I have been looking for a man to do some work around the yard at my residence, for several days, and so far have been unsuccess-I am not the only one that will tell you that men can not be found in Glendale to work. Every man in business here that has found it necessary to hire men recently has been obliged to seek them in Los Angeles for they could not be found here.

"Indeed, of the unemployment wave affecting this city, I would say that a shortage of men to do work that is necessary is facing Glendale.

Mrs. E. V. Bacon read a communication from Superintendent Richardson D. White, expressing regret because of inability to be present. He is attending the convention of principals and superintendents in San Diego which is obligatory.

Mr. White reviewed history of the movement which led up to calling the election to vote the proposed $260,000 school bond issue, the careful, disinterested work of the advisory committee of 19 made up of representatives from all parts of the city, including South Glendale, which had been appointed by the mass meeting to co-operate with the board, and its recommendation that the congestion at Intermediate and Cerritos schools be relieved by a new intermediate to cost $110,-000 or more, and located at Park and Glendale, and that Acacia avenue school be enlarged by additional grounds and buildings at a cost of approximately $28,000. The total for pointed out, is $8,000 more than 50 percent of the proposed bond issue. He argued, therefore, that South Glendale could not claim reasonably that its needs had been ignored by the Burton Has Very Glowing maps.

Picture of Future Painted ory to On Facts of Past

"Active as sales have been in Glendale property, the movement here is in its infancy compared to what we are going to see," declared J. W. M. Burton of the firm of Burton & Chandler today, in connection with reports of big transactions he has consumated within the past few days.

"A customer who was in my office last week told of a millionaire of her acquaintance who had been one of the been studying the realty market in Southern California. That man, she said, had decided to concentrate his energy and money in Glendale. The man has materialized and has already begun his investments."

When questioned regarding some of the large deals referred to Mr. Burton mentioned as the biggest transaction that has taken place in Glendale in a time, the pooling of property owned by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lawson and its sale for a consideration in neighborhood of $60,000 to the Baldwin sisters, part cash and part other property taken in exchange.

It included two business lots on Broadway, one at the corner of Isabel, the other at the corner of Everett; one business lot on Brand north of Doran, a residence lot on Harvard between Kenwood and Jackson, two lots on Central avenue between Doran and Patterson, and a lot on Orange above Doran. For himself Mr. Burton has just purchased from Francis Booth the lot on past 24 hours: the southwest corner of Broadway L. H. Wilson, office building, and Kenwood. The lot adjoining it on the west is owned by Mr. Burton who is about to improve it with a $26,000 two-story building, for which plans have been prepared by Mr. George Lindsay who is sharing the office of Burton & Chandler. There will be three stores and storage room below and ten apartments above.

Other sales recently made by Mr. Burton include three lots on North Maryland and one on North Louise which have been purchased by E. Eicheberger of Los Angeles. He will improve them with high class bunga-Nathan Rigdon has bought four lots in the same locality between Dryden and Stocker which he will improve with houses of tile construction which will cost from $5000 to $7000 each.

C. C. Ames of Los Angeles is buying from Eicheberger seven or eight high G. class lots in Montrose on Waltonia Drive and Crescent avenue on which J. G. Jernigar, garage, 617 he will build attractive houses to sell. Mr. Ames is one of the big contractors of Los Angeles, reports Mr. Burton, who put all these deals through. "THE GREAT MOMENT" AT PALACE GRAND

A story of romantic quality, with that continental flavor which has been Pacific; imparted to most of her stories by J. S. McQuistan to 732 North Brand. Mme. Elinor Glyn, is included in "The Great Moment," in which Gloria Swanson makes her debut as a Paramount star, and which will be shown at the Palace Grand theater for three days.

Monte M. Katterjohn, working side by side with the author, prepared the screen version of the story which opens at an orgy in St. Petersburg when a British aristocraf is captivated by and marries a woman from the plains of Tartary—a Gypsy. The latter leaves him a daughter, Nadine, and in this role Miss Swanson has one of the greatest of her screen career.

The tempestuous nature of her mother is transmitted to the child: the longing for the nomadic life is an inhorn passion and she takes the Knight Bayard of history, "without fear and without reproach" as her ideal. A love story follows-a vivid, colorful, perfervid romance, the story shifting across oceans and continents to America and the wilds of Nevada. Later the scene of the story is taken up in Washington and the strict official life of the capital. Finally, the lovers find happiness in the Nevada hills-tasting of heaven and becoming the equals of the gods.

JAPAN CIVILIZATION'S PUZZLE

From democratic national headquarters has emaference. It had not been expected. There was no tain republicans towards the League of Nations. An to do it. Any why not? Business is business. ineffective excuse since it involves belief in the theory that two wrongs make a right.

A phase of this attack was the charge that the Japanese question had been dragged into the conference for debate and possibly for definite action. It was not dragged in. It belonged in. It formed an essential element. To ignore it would be to render the conference futile. The question of disarmament rests upon the attitude of all the powers concerned. AMERICAN TROOPS ABROAD

France is said to be alarmed at the prospective withdrawal of American trops from the Rhine. The idea seems to be that such a move might give Germany a notion that solidarity of the allies had been impaired. The number of American troops over there is inconsiderable, but their presence, and the flying of the American flag is felt to have great moral effect. It seems likely that the fears of the French are ground-occasionally is under necessity for renewal of the purple robes of its station. Then the American dough is a handy thing.

To show that she was just and generous, the lady while buying a prince for herself, struck a bargain for a princess for her son. The lad is nearly grown, and with his mother busy checking the accounts of the palace commissary, and seeing that the laundry does not get away with the prince's fine linen, needed some one to care for him. So she arranged to get a princess of Russian extraction. A Russian princess just now might be reckoned what the commercial world would term a poor buy. If she managed to get out of Russia with a whole suit, and her title intact, she was remarkably above the average in her luck. If there is any thing else quite so empty as a Russian title since bolshevism leapt into the saddle, it is a Lenine pledge of good faith.

The world is old.

Nobody knows just how old it is. Because its birthdays have not been recorded. And the record of them calculated in years,. would fill a big book.

Scientists make estimates.

But they do not attempt to declare exactly. Their figures run into many millions of years. For they have estimated the various periods of the earth's existence.

And the approximate duration of each period.

In calculating the age of a man, a year is not a great variation from exactitude.

Because a man lives we will say seventy years. So a year is only one and three tenths per cent of his age. Not a great difference whether we estimate his age at sixty-nine or seventy-one. And if the earth is seventy millions years old, then a million years is not a great departure from exactitude. Time is relative. One million years is to seventy millions as one year is to seventy years. As we used to discover in proportion.

But the world may be hundreds of millions of years old. Nobody knows.

It may have been hanging around like a gas balloon in space for a couple of kundred millions of years before it began to take shape at all.

And at last it assumed a spherical solidity. Just as drops of heated metal falling from a shot tower become round. Spherical.

It is the operation of a natural force. And the earth in revolution might have been like a ball of heated metal dropping from a shot tower.

It may have been a million years ago to the time when man could wiggle his ears. As a dog does, or a horse or cow or other animal. For one time he was able to wiggle his ears. The rudimentary muscles are there.

The animals protect themselves through the hearing of the approach of dangers.

Consequently their ears are adjusted to be directed this way and that. To catch all the sound waves there are.

So the world, as we call it, is old. Has seen many changes.

But disuse has atrophied them.

And will perhaps see many more. If it survives another hundred million years. Which doubtless it will.

When the supply of coal is exhausted, we shall find heat and power from other sources.

Or if we do not, our legatees of the earth will. And earth will survive perhaps until the sun is blotted out of the universe. And there is no immediate danger of that.

* * * The civilization of which we boast at present is only a few hundred years old.

Compared with the age of the earth, not even as the single tick of a clock. The government of England is a little more than a thousand years old. The foundations of present governments in Europe were laid less than two thousand years ago. So all of civilization is modern, as compared with the age of the earth.

It would be interesting to live another hundred or two hundred years and see what governments and peoples survive.

Except as industry, intelligence, sobriety, courage and strength shall enable them to rule.

The white skinned races need to take notice of the fact that their skins alone will not save them.

Comment on the News By HENRY JAMES

Liberty bonds are reported to have soared on the New York The country has felt the manner in which the bonds of the government were being hawked. The people who bought them in the first place supposed that humilitation by every issue would remain at par. They could not in every instance hold on to the bonds, having bought more than they could carry, and immediately they were at the mercy of brokers conducting business on the plane of pawnbrokers. Of course the bonds are perfectly safe, and those who have them and can afford to hold them are to be congratulated.

Villa has been heard from again in a manner that does not place the old cutthroat in a favorable light. and chucking an occasional friendly bomb into the Palais Royal. But how they think they can import that sort of Limburger Cheese rebellion idea into the U S. A., and sell it, is too much for me to understand. For instance, I have just been reading a poster got out by "The National Federation of Young Lady communists." (Doubtless, Clement Vautel observes, there are first, second and third degrees of youth among ladies.) And this particular piece of propaganda fireworks says, among other things: 'Against bourgeois militarism!

"Against pacifism! "For arming the proletariat! These young ladies are about as consistent as you might expect. They will have nothing to do with pacifism, any sort, by anybody, from Jesus Christ to Victor Hugo. A bas pacifism!

Let the Proletariat arm! That means the workers. In the United States htat would mean pretty near everybody, for not 5 per cent of our population are professional loafers, either in Palm Beach hotels or in box cars

All department store girls would carry bombs to blow up fat millionairesses who snub them. Factory hands would stack their guns before going to work, and insist on an hour off every afternoon to practice shooting grocers, bankers, lawyers, writers and other burgeois.

All this doubtless appeals to youth. Boys all like to play soldier and girls all love the military. When I was young the present most wanted for Christmas was something I could shoot off. So down with pacifism! down with militarism, that is, bourgeois militarism, meaning police and regular soldiers! And long live comic opera and the revolution and the proletariat! As Aunt Martha would say-

Rejection of 12 Per Cent Cut in Wages Almost Unanimous Say Leaders

CHICAGO, Sept. 29 .- All of the large unions of the railroad workers have voted in favor of a strike.

The official canvass of the strike vote of all unions show a large majority for rejection of the wage cut of 12 per cent and authorizing the leaders to call a strike, officials stated. Armed with a strike vote, the union leaders believe they will be in a more favorable position to negotiate with the railroads. All of the union heads, except possibly that of the shopmen's organization, profess to believe the men will not actually quit work, but would not send his own daughter that an adjustment will be reached.
